With 480.000 community members and 100 localized languages, OpenOffice.org is one of the world's leading open source communities in terms of size, vibrancy, and vitality.

Join the community and be part of this driving force. Millions of students and thousands of schools all over the world are already using OpenOffice.org.

As a community, we design and create a free, easy to use and feature rich cross-platform office suite based on open standards like OpenDocument and XML.
