

There will be two tracks of sessions directed at both users and developers. General topics range from scenarios for using the product and standards to talks about Open Source philosophy. Topics for developers cover the overall process, QA, porting and localization as well as the Software Development Kit.

General

-  General Usage & Features
-  Business & Government
-  Marketing
-  Standards (especially XML)
-  Open Source
-  The Community

Development

-  Software Development Kit
-  Porting
-  Localization
-  Filters
-  QA

- 9:00  Welcome
Dr. Stefan Gradmann
- 9:15  The Global Importance of OO.org
Miguel de Icaza
- 10:00  Curtis Sasaki
- 11:30  Introduction OO.org XML File Format
 Marketing OO.org in Your Country
 OO.org Software Development Kit (SDK)
- 12:30  Integration with Tamino
 Migrating from Microsoft Office
 Child Work Spaces - The new process
- 14:00  FIGARO Project - Authoring Tool OO.org
 The future of OO.org
- 15:00  1dok.org - New view on digital documents
 Difference between OO.org and StarOffice
 Scripting OO.org in your language of choice
- 16:15  OO.org instituted by Computer Engineering Technology School
 Web-based Distributed Localization
- 17:15  Automated Format Transformation for Courseware
 Analysis of OO.org User and Developer Survey Results
- 18:30  BOF...
 BOF...

- 9:00  Complementing the OO.org Experience: The Chandler and Mozilla Projects
Mitchell Baker
- 9:45  Danese Cooper
- 11:00  OO.org on three continents - A Real Life Case Study
 The OO.org QA Process
- 12:00  Desktop Migration to Linux and OO.org
 User Experience (Panel)
 Integration with Gnome
- 13:30  Pladao Office - the Thai version of OO.org
 The Open ECDL: How to use opensource software
 The Mac OS X/Darwin port of OO.org
- 14:30  OO.org Enterprise Development
- 15:30 Townhall

The number of available seats is limited!

Thus, if you want to be one of the attendees at the first OpenOffice.org Conference, secure your seat now. The details about how to register can be found at

<http://marketing.openoffice.org/conference/registration.html>

The admission fee will be EUR 20 and will be collected at the event.