<welcome>The First Worldwide OpenOffice.org Conference</welcome>

March 20 - 21, 2003
University of Hamburg

OpenOffice.org
Conference

The "most important open source project!"

Meet the Project's developers and users from all over the world to learn about and contribute to OpenOffice.org.

Keynote addresses by Mitchell Baker, Miguel de Icaza and Curtis Sasaki.

There will be two tracks of sessions directed at both users and developers. General topics range from scenarios for using the product and standards to talks about Open Source philosophy. Topics for developers cover the overall process, QA, porting and localization as well as the Software Development Kit. OpenOffice.org is both an Open Source product and a project. The product is the leading open-source project developing the most advanced multi-lingual and multi-platform free office suite.

U·H Universität Hamburg

www EdOsNet
org

Educational Opensource
Network

COLLABNET

Sun
microsystems

SOFTWARE AG
THE XML COMPANY

icoya
by struktur

.riessintegration

www.openoffice.org